By GORDON G. GAUSS
DENVER (AP) — Republican leaders of the Colorado Legislature, assembling Friday in advance of Saturday's special session, expressed belief realignment of congressional districts can be accomplished within four or five days.

5th Division Team Wins Pistol Title At Ft. Riley

FT. RILEY, Kan. (AP)—The 5th Mechanized Infantry Division, Ft. Carson, Colo., won the top pistol event in the Fifth Army rifle and pistol matches which were completed Friday.

The Ft. Carson team won the national match course for the pistol service team championship, firing 1097-27. The 16th U. S. Army Reserve Corps headquarters at Milwaukee, Wis. was second with 1069-20 and the 14th U. S. Army Reserve Corps also headquartered at Milwaukee, third with 1066-27.

The 16th and 14th corps teams finished first and second in the long range rifle shooting, open team competition, the 16th firing 578-56 and the 14th, 574-50. (Turn to Page A5, Column 8)

Chaplain Says Man Must Give World Order, Unity

Chaplain (Col.) Charles J. Murphy, 5th U. S. Army Chaplain, said Friday that the task of introducing order where there is chaos and unity where there is division is the most important one confronting 20th century man.

He was the keynote speaker at 10,000 soldiers of the 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized) and Fort Carson gathered at Pershing Field for the post-wide interdenominational Religious Training Day.

Arizona Journal Is 'Dead'

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The Arizona Journal, launched Feb. 14, 1962, as a morning daily ceased publication Wednesday.

Publisher Robert Morrison said the Journal Corp., founded with about 11,000 stockholders, was dead but he intends to start a successor soon.

Founded as the nation's first metropolitan daily to use the offset printing method, the Journal was in trouble financially almost from the beginning.

It suspended publication Jan. 24, 1963, but resumed the following Aug. 21 under a new corporate organization which pledged to redeem shares held by all stockholders.

In announcing the death of the Journal Wednesday, Morrison said, "It was a matter of fighting off the world for 11,000 stockholders who sat on their hands. Only about 150 came through to carry the paper this long."

Morrison added that he plans to move to a smaller location and publish a six-day-a-week morning newspaper.

Morrison said his new paper might be a tabloid and there is also some question about using the same offset equipment.

He said the value of the Journal plant is about $1.1 million, with a $592,000 mortgage.

"There's still a debt amounting to about $100,000 to the Internal Revenue Service," Morrison said, "but there's still plenty in the building."

China Protests Laos 'Duress'

VIETNAMESE, Laos, Saturday (UPI) — Communist China charged Saturday that Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma is "under duress" — an indication the Communist Pathet Lao may reject Friday's settlement of the coup in Laos.

Despite the Communist charge, right-wing troops were withdrawn from guard duty at Souvanna's villa Friday night and replaced with his own nationalist troops. Later, he drove to the airport to greet Crown Prince Vong Savang.

The agreement settling the coup keeps Souvanna in power but under the watchful eyes of the right-wing generals who attempted to remove him from power last Sunday. The official Pathet Lao reaction has not yet come.

ZANZIBAR (UPI) — President Abeid Karume of Zanzibar said Friday the union of his country with Tanganyika to form Africa's newest nation would endure. He pledged a policy of non-alignment in the cold war.

Karume spoke to the diplomatic corps at the presidential palace while dismantling of the U. S. space tracking station on the space islands proceeded. Several plane loads of equipment were flown to Mombasa, Kenya, Thursday.

Extension Center Gets Boost in CU Budget

BOULDER (AP) — Regents at the University of Colorado approved Friday a budget of $32.8 million for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

This is $3.1 higher than for the current year. Most of the increase will be used for the Denver and Colorado Springs extension centers.

State tax funds will furnish $17.8 million of the budget and $15 million will come from university income. The budget calls for spending $18 million at the university here and its extension centers, and $12.8 at the Colorado Medical Center in Denver.

Dr. Joseph R. Smiley, university president, told the board that the Boulder budget was based on an expected enrollment of 13,100 next fall, about 562 more than this year.

He said the university suffered a $412,000 reduction in state tax support by action of the last legislature.

Because of the tightness of the budget, Smiley said, no new faculty positions were provided at Boulder, there will be no increase in research funds, no new scholarships will be provided, the present scholarships will be reduced.

Smiley also told the regents: "There will be sufficient funds for a faculty increase of 3 per cent for normal staff salary raises, and for a small increase in the library staff."

Regents Hike Medical Tuition

BOULDER (UPI)—The Board of Regents raised tuition Friday for all students at the University of Colorado Medical Center in Denver except students in the medical school.

The board said the increases put the tuition for nursing, physical therapy, medical technology and basic science graduate students on a par with Boulder campus tuition, which was raised March 21.

The increases amount to $112 a year for resident graduate students and $402 for non-residents, $55 a year for resident physical therapy and medical technology students and $191 for non-residents, and $79 for resident nursing students and $202 for non-residents.

Speaking of great world leaders, he said that they are great because they do not hesitate to undertake grave tasks and they do not apologize for making heavy claims upon the lives and loyalties of followers.

Chaplain Murphy told his listeners that, "In spirit we are victorious or defeated. Become the orderly, trusting, united children of God, and nothing can conquer your spirit."

Amendment Puts Limit on Fines in Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judges could not impose more than 30 days in jail or $300 fines without jury trials in civil rights cases under an amendment introduced in the Senate on Friday by the Democratic and Republican leaders.

It is similar to a provision in the 1967 civil rights bill dealing only with voting rights discrimination. But it offers some concession to Southern forces who want jury-trial guarantees in all criminal contempt cases — not just civil rights — except when contempt is committed in court.

The amendment was offered by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois on behalf (Turn to Page A5, Column 2)

Local Sergeant Is Killed in Viet Nam

A Colorado Springs man, Sgt. L.C. Raymond A. Adam, was identified by the Army Friday as the jeep driver who died when his vehicle hit a land mine in Viet Nam Tuesday.

Both Adam and his passenger, Capt. James P. Spruill of Saffern, N.Y., were killed in the explosion. Adam's wife, Rosa, lives at 547 Warren Ave.

ROBBERS NEARS END — William (Wild Bill) Carlisle, left, shown in a 1962 picture, is the last of the train robbers who terrorized the west and now lies dying of cancer in the home of a relative at Coatesville, Pa. He is shown with Fred Mazzulla, Denver attorney and historian, when the two talked over Carlisle's life two years ago. Carlisle, now 74, was sentenced to life imprisonment in 1919 in Wyoming, and pardoned in 1936. (AP Wirephoto)

Dominick Says LBJ Gives World Bad Image of U. S.

STATELINE, Nev. (AP) — The Johnson administration is "creating a world wide image of America as a faltering, poverty stricken and racially torn nation," Sen. Peter Dominick, R-Colo., said Friday night.

The foreign policy, which he called "directionless," is made worse by attempts to stifle all but "the rubber stampers," Dominick told the Nevada Republican Convention.

A self-serving image equalled only by circus man, P. T. Barnum has been forged through news management and deception techniques, the senator said in a keynote address.

Dominick called on Republicans to "turn on once again the lights of responsible government and show the world the power, dignity and the justice of the American way of life."

Solon Claims Stampede Try In Prayer Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—A California congressman said Friday "right-wing extremists" are trying to stampede Congress into amending the Constitution to permit prayers in the public schools.

Rep. B. F. Sisk, D-Calif., told the House Judiciary Committee the campaign for a constitutional amendment actually is an attack on the Supreme Court.

He predicted that if the committee can prolong its hearings on various proposed amendments substantial opposition will build up against what he sees as an effort to change the First Amendment which provides for separation of church and state.

Sisk said he had not intended to testify at the hearings but did so because he was amazed to read accounts of the early testimony. He said this indicated to him that Congress may be stampeded into amending the Constitution.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., who has listened to more than 25 members of Congress call for an amendment to undo a Supreme Court ruling and permit prayers in the public schools, told Sisk his testimony was "like a bit of cool air in the heat of summer."

Sisk said he feels most of the mail deluging congressmen in support of a constitutional amendment is inspired by Dr. Carl McIntire, president of the International Council of Christian Churches, Collingswood, N.J.

He has a big radio network and I've found that wherever he has stations you get a substantial amount of support for the Becker amendment," Sisk said. Sisk referred to an amendment by Rep. Frank J. Becker, (Turn to Page A5, Column 9)

Izvestia Reports Continued Russ Support for Cuba

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government's official paper, Izvestia, denounced U.S. reconnaissance flights over Cuba and reiterated that the Soviet Union will side with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's island nation if it is attacked.

Izvestia stepped into a controversy between Havana and Washington with a long article Friday sharply condemning the aerial surveys of Cuba that the United States has conducted periodically since the missile crisis of October 1962.

The article was signed by "Observer," which means someone influential in Soviet Premier Khrushchev's regime. And its headline was "No one is allowed to violate the sovereignty of Cuba."

In Washington, a State Department spokesman declined comment.

"The flights of American warplanes over Cuba are an unceasing violation of the sovereign rights of an independent state, a violation of the United Nations charter and of generally recognized standards of international law," the article charged.

"This is a most dangerous policy which could lead to the (Turn to Page A5, Column 5)

Reports Governors All Agree

HUNTINGTON, W. V. (UPI) — President Johnson Friday night climaxed a five-state tour of poverty-stricken areas by announcing that he will send a message to Congress soon to implement the so-called Appalachian report designed to bring prosperity to that region.

In a statement at the Huntington Airport where about 2,500 persons gathered, Johnson said he will make an announcement in the next few days to "implement or supplement" the report of his Appalachian commission to give federal assistance to the states of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, North Carolina, Georgia, and West Virginia.

The Chief Executive made the announcement after an hour and 15-minute meeting with the governors of seven states and the representative of Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama wired Johnson that he was unable to accept his invitation for the Huntington meeting which took place in a building next to the airport terminal.

"I plan to make an announcement in the next few days concerning further implementing (Turn to Page A5, Column 9)

McNamara Ducks VP Talk Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—As deftly as an old pro politician, a beaming Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara fielded questions Friday about what he would do if President Johnson asked him to run for vice president.

When the sparring was over, McNamara hadn't said yes and he hadn't said no.

But reporters came away from his news conference with a strong impression that the Pentagon's chief might be "available."

McNamara is reported to be — or at least to have been — an independent Republican.

But when reporters tried to "set the record straight" on his political affiliation, McNamara smugly slid off that one, too.

The defense secretary — considered more a management executive than a politician in view of his Ford Motor Co. background — was in such a good mood that he even spoke lightly about an issue that has (Turn to Page A5, Column 4)

Underground Blast Fired in Nevada

NEVADA TEST SITE, Nev. (UPI) — An underground nuclear explosion was detonated Friday beneath the Nevada desert, and the blast was detected as an apparent earth quake on at least three California seismographs.

The low-intermediate yield shot, with an explosive power equal to from 20,000 to 200,000 tons of TNT, was set off more than five hours behind schedule after being placed on a series of holds, apparently due to weather conditions.

The article was signed by "Observer," which means someone influential in Soviet Premier Khrushchev's regime. And its headline was "No one is allowed to violate the sovereignty of Cuba."

In Washington, a State Department spokesman declined comment.

School Officials Ask End to Racial Strife

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—School officials went to court Friday in a renewed effort to end the racial strife that has plagued the city for nearly a year.

They asked the Delaware County Court for an injunction against further civil rights demonstrations when the public schools reopen the first of next week. A hearing probably will be held Monday morning.

Children's Clubs Hold Spring Rally

The annual spring rally of the Good News Clubs will be held at 7:15 p.m. Friday, at the Evangelical Free Church.

The clubs are weekly neighborhood classes conducted for children right after school. Being interdenominational, no sectarianism is taught. Visualized Bible stories and songs the children like highlight each class.

These classes are sponsored by the Child Evangelism Fellowship of El Paso County, Inc., an affiliate of the state, national and international organizations by the same name. The Rev. and Mrs. Carl A. Smith are directors of the local work, and interested persons are asked to contact them at 632-2919.

This rally is planned as a big event for the children. They are featured on the program in a variety of presentations, including songs, choruses, and memory work reviews. A gift is promised for every child present.

Also featured on the program will be a magician. Willard Pelton of Denver will mystify the audience with some real magic.

It is the desire of the sponsors of this rally that moms, dads and friends of the work will attend and enjoy an hour's program with the children. It will be an opportunity to see first hand what is being done for their spiritual welfare.

Business Car Ban Requested In Lake Area

The Prospect Lake Improvement Society has asked the city to close Prospect Lake Drive at the south end of Prospect Lake to all commercial traffic.

The request was contained in a memorandum sent to City Manager John M. Biery. The memo read:

"The Prospect Lake Improvement Society met last week and voted to ask that the street (Prospect Lake Drive) be closed to all commercial vehicles and a sign be installed to conform with all other entrance signs at Memorial Park."

Highland Park Church Has Special Services

Highland Park Baptist Church has plans for a week of special spiritual services to be conducted at 7:30 each evening, Sunday through May 3.

The Rev. Elmer Hartwell will be the guest minister for the services. He is presently pastoring the First Baptist Church of Simla, where he has served for the past ten years. A graduate of Moody Bible Institute and Northern Baptist Theological Seminary in Chicago, he previously held pastorates in Wisconsin and Illinois.

The public is invited to take part in all services.

Houses Given

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (AP) — The World Council of Churches presented 125 prefabricated houses this week to the people of this quake-shattered Macedonian metropolis.

CHOIR TO SING ORATORIO — Members of the First Christian Church choir and guest soloists will sing the oratorio, "The Holy City," by A. R. Gaul, at 4 p.m. in the sanctuary of the church. Mrs. Louise W. Dockstader is director of the choir and John D. Buck will accompany at the pipe organ. The performance is open to the public and music lovers.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, M.D., Ph.D.

Successful dieting is more a psychological problem than medical. So heed my advice to Rev. Samuel and stop imitating the hog farmers who urge pigs to drink with their meals. This is an unwise plan that causes us to wash down half chewed food and put on undue poundage. Send for the dieting booklet below.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE S-448: Rev. Samuel is a very popular clergyman. "But, Dr. Crane," he began, "I am invited to so many banquets to make speeches, that I am getting much too heavy."

"Since I am about 50 pounds overweight, what are some of the best ways to slendelize?" "I find it very difficult to go on a diet and attend banquets constantly."

DIETING PSYCHOLOGY
Dieting is often more a matter of psychology than of medicine. And people in Rev. Samuel's situation do have trouble trying to count calories while attending banquets.

As a basic rule for all dieters, therefore, avoid ALL liquids with your meals!

That simple device alone will usually lop off many pounds of your surplus blubber.

For most of us associate sweet rolls or pie or cake with coffee.

If there is no coffee at our plate, then we lose much of our desire for the rolls, pie or cake!

Just test yourself and you'll find the truth of that fact.

Besides, you really should not drink with your meals, for then you wash down half chewed food.

Mankind is one of the few creatures that drinks at meal time and it is really a pernicious habit that swiftly adds poundage.

In fact, farmers urge hogs to drink just to make them get fat more quickly!

A second bit of advice for obese folks is to eat 6 meals per day but of only 200 calories apiece.

And it is well to shrink your stomach when you wish to diet in earnest.

Lately, it has been suggested that you fast completely for a few days.

But you can get much the same effect by using my dehydration diet in which you limit yourself to just one full glass (8 oz.) of total liquid the first day, 2 glasses the second day, and 3 glasses through the 10th day.

Women meanwhile may take 800 calories of food per day, and men may have 1,200.

But that low liquid input seems to dry up both saliva and gastric juice so you do not feel very hungry even on your restricted caloric intake.

The first day you may have a headache, so use an aspirin tablet.

Remember, too, to include 400 calories worth of protein, such as cottage cheese, wieners, meat, etc.

A hot dog counts about 100 calories. So does an apple, a medium potato, and a banana.

A full cup of cottage cheese counts approximately 200 calories but is very filling and rich in protein, too.

Church women should start a dieting contest and thus raise money by contributing $2.50 per pound for each pound they shed, for that's what they save in groceries.

For further advice and a calorie chart, send for my booklet "How to Lose 10 Lbs. in 10 Days," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, address label.)

He has sung leading roles in such operas as "Carmen," "The Magic Flute," "Cavalleria Rusticana," "Adia," "Faust," and "Tosca."

Other appearances have been with the New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony, the Denver Symphony, in its annual presentation of the "Messiah," the Colorado Springs Symphony, and at the Governor's Mansion. He sang the leading role in Denver University's production of "Dream of Gerontius" by Elgar.

Frazier is now a music teacher in the Denver public schools, director of Denver's Interparish Choir and the Notre Dame Church Choir.

He will be accompanied by Miss Dorothy A. Spann, choir director of the church.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Women's Auxiliary, or by calling 634-7608.

First Lutheran Will Hold Dinner Meeting

A congregational dinner for members of First Lutheran Church will be held at 6:30 p.m. Monday in Carpenters Hall.

Guest speaker will be the Rev. Jack W. Lundin, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church in Boulder.

The dinner meeting has been planned to acquaint the congregation with plans for future building projects.

Participating in the program are members of the church's general committee: James Winkler, chairman; Dr. Robert E. Larsen, advance visits; Dr. Robert E. Ehler, organizations; Arthur E. Mayer, publicity; Jack Lay, building committee; Howard Campbell, audit chairman; Pam Girard, speaking for the young people.

Group singing will follow, directed by Carl Mathis and accompanied by Mrs. Helen Deits.

Hostesses for the meeting will be introduced by Mrs. Arnold Schaefer. Mrs. Elmer Graff is in charge of arrangements.

The Rev. William Shackelford, Evangelist, will be the guest speaker at the 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday services at First Assembly of God.

The public is invited to attend the services.

Charles P. Smith To Speak at Bethany Baptist

The Men's Brotherhood at Bethany Baptist Church has made arrangements for Charles P. Smith to speak at the church at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Smith is the newly elected president of American Baptist Men. He was accorded this honor at the 20th Anniversary Annual Conference held at the American Baptist Assembly, Green Lake, Wis.

A retired business executive, Smith has for the past eight years served the Illinois Baptist State Convention as a field representative and director of men's work. He is known as a dollar a year man because he gives his full time service on a volunteer basis.

In the course of his present activity, he travels many miles, serving the denomination as a speaker and representative in state conventions, area rallies and meetings, annual laymen retreats and conferences.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith teach a Sunday school class of 80 young married couples at Central Baptist Church, Springfield, Ill., where they are members.

Special music will be presented for the service.

The public is invited to attend.

Singing Groups At First Baptist

The Treble Tones, the women's choral group from Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, Tex., and the King's Men Quartet will present a concert of sacred music at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at First Southern Baptist Church.

Included in the Treble Tones' repertoire are two hymns which Dr. J. O. DeLage, the group's director, has arranged for use with the college's imported Schulerich handbells. They are "Praise To The Lord, The Almighty" and "Praise The Lord, Ye Heavens, Adore Him."

Adding variety to the program will be selections from "The Music Man" and settings of the Robert Frost poems, "Come In" and "A Girl's Garden."

Dr. DeLage is associate professor of music at the college, teaching voice and theory in addition to directing the Treble Tones. He is a member of the national music fraternity, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, and an honorary member of the Choral Conductors Guild of America.

In April, 1964, Rev. Carpenter began his work as full-time evangelist in his denomination. His messages are simple, informative, and strong.

Special music will be furnished by the Golden Tone Trio, state talent winners of the church of the Nazarene for Colorado and the Youth For Christ talent winners. The church choir will also sing at each service.

The public is invited to attend the services.

AFA to Present Minister From Honolulu

The Kahu, or shepherd of Honolulu, will be guest preacher at Air Force Academy worship services Sunday.

The Rev. Abraham K. Akaka, pastor of Honolulu's Kawaiahao Church, will preach at 7:45, 9, and 11:15 a.m. services. The public may attend.

Called the "best loved minister in Hawaii," Rev. Akaka normally works a 17-hour day, seven days a week. He lists his hobby as surf boarding, his vocation as "people."

Members of his congregation, businessmen, and government employees attend the daily "Ohana" or morning prayer service. Rev. Akaka has instituted.

The Rev. Akaka holds B.A., D.D., and L.H.D. degrees and has served as Chaplain of the Hawaiian State Senate and as regent of the University of Hawaii. He was named Hawaii's Citizen of the Year and Salesman of the Year and received the David Hale Award as the outstanding native Hawaiian Rotarian in 1962.

Kawaiahao Church, the "Westminster Abbey of Hawaii," is often called the mother church of the islands. It was founded by the first Christian mission to Hawaii in 1820.

Worship In Church Every Week

MY ANSWER

by Billy Graham

© 1964 by Chicago Tribune
N.Y. News Syndicate, Inc.

QUESTION: I am confused as to which day to worship God. Some of my friends say it is Saturday, and some say it is Sunday. Would you please give me scriptures as to which day is the day to worship? —P. S.

ANSWER: Before Christ came religious worship was limited to one day out of seven. Christianity, in contrast to the traditional teachings of Judaism, was not just a weekly affair—it touched all of life. The concept that we are to be religious just one day a week, whether that day be Saturday, Sunday, or Wednesday, is not in accordance with the teaching of Christ. To restrict fellowship with God to one hour on one special day of the week is nearer pagan than Christian in its concept.

In Acts we read of the Spirit-filled Christians. "And they continued steadfastly (continuously) in the apostles doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread and in prayers, and the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved." (Acts 2:42-47)

Worship God everyday! Pray everyday. Witness for Him everyday—including Saturday and Sunday. Then, when you get to heaven you will have met God's requirements, no matter which day was counted as the Sabbath or Lord's Day. However, there is a special day that we are to set aside for rest of soul, mind, and body. It is a law of God that we labor for six and rest on one. This day should be one of recreation and worship.

QUESTION: Once you become a Christian, is it easier to keep on believing and trusting? —H. T.

ANSWER: It is easier, but it will never be easy.

We all say with the father of the demon-possessed child, "Lord I believe; help thou mine unbelief."

Belief in an unbelieving world is not easy. All around us are cultures which would steal away the seeds of Truth.

But we are faced with an inalienable choice. Jesus said: "Straight is the gate and narrow the way that leads to life and few there be that find it." We are in quest of life—not mere existence. There is a difference between affluence and abundant life. A material society can give us many things—it can give us quantity, but never quality.

Any kind of worthwhile quest has its hazards. To become a successful athlete, business man, or artist requires great discipline and sacrifice. Should we assume that the greatest thing in all the world, abundant life, in Christ, should be achieved without cost on our part?

Charles Spurgeon, it is said, had a motto on his study wall. It read: "Holding, I am held." That expresses the Christian view of life. We stake all on Christ, and by so doing, we put ourselves in a position to be held by Him.

QUESTION: What do you think "taking up the cross" means to most Christians? —E. D. H.

ANSWER: I believe that "taking up the cross" means something different than many people interpret it.

The "Cross" in Jesus' day was a reproach, a disgrace. It was a wooden beam upon which enemies of society were punished and killed. There was nothing romantic or attractive about it. Jesus said: "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me."

Paul said that the cross was "to the Jews a stumbling block, and to the Greeks, foolishness." In other words, to "Take up our cross" is still not an act for which we are applauded by the world. It still has its reproach; it still has its pain; it still has its unpopularity.

But the follower of Christ takes the long view, the sensible view of life. He well knows that there is not reward without responsibility; no health without suffering, and no crown without a cross. So he takes up His cross, not just in duty, but in love, and carries it with his Savior.

Bearing the cross means that we go back into the world ready to bear whatever reproach there may be for being a Christian. Sometimes it means death!

THE ADEQUATE LORD

Now as never before the world needs the Holy light that flows from the Sacred pages of His Holy Bible. The adequate Lord and the needy world must be brought together. Ambassadors of God must be summoned and transportation chartered to bear the gospel message to the "four corners of the earth." The candles we light must illuminate the Holy Word, and churches everywhere must keep preaching that Christ is what the world must have for its health and salvation. Like Paul and Barnabas may we be ministers of His Word. The whole world needs the light from the candles, the influence of the cross, and the inspiration of the Bible.

risk of a new sharpening of tension in the Caribbean area.

"Gentlemen, do not try to intimidate us. If Cuba is subjected to a treacherous attack, the Soviet Union will not put up with it and will side with Cuba. It has declared this before and confirms this now," the article said.

Izvestia said it is an inalienable right of Cuba "to take the necessary measures to put an end to the intrusion of foreign warplanes into its airspace."

"If the provocations are continued against Cuba," it said, "the responsibility for them will be borne by those who organize these provocations."

The United States intends to continue the flights.

President Johnson said Tuesday the flights are essential to determine whether any new offensive missiles are being installed in Cuba. The Soviets withdrew their nuclear-armed medium range rockets in the 1962 confrontation.

"We will have to maintain our reconnaissance and overflights," Johnson said. "Any action to stop that would be a very serious action. We have so informed them and their friends."

This followed up a declaration by Castro in a Havana speech Sunday that Cuba no longer would tolerate violations of its airspace by American planes.

brought him up fighting in the recent past.

That is the question of how dependable are U.S. missiles? Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a contender for the Republican presidential nomination, has coupled questions about their dependability with attacks on McNamara.

"I think we are in a political campaign and I suspect between now and November we will hear more of such charges," the defense secretary said with a smile.

Latin Students Place First in League Contests

Students of Latin from Wasco and Palmer High Schools won three first places in contests at the tenth annual meeting of the Junior Classical League, Saturday in Denver.

First place awards went to Fred Backe, Wasco, second-year Latin vocabulary, Susan McMillin, Palmer, first-year vocabulary, and Jean Haug, Wasco, Roman life.

Five other high school students placed second in various contests. They were Suzi Bouzhan, Palmer, Latin derivatives; Karen Cash, Wasco, art; Victor Evans, Wasco, mythology; Janet Likeness, Wasco, poetry; and Linda McClatchen, Wasco, Roman costume.

Junior high students who won second places were Twila Holt, Palmer, Latin derivatives; Rob Funk, grammar; and Dianne Cross, handcraft, all of North Junior. Third place winners were Paul Arnest, mythology, and Gary Benson, poster, both of North Junior, and Annette Lee, Horace Mann, Roman life.

Mary Ann Davitt of Wasco was elected parliamentarian of the Junior Classical League and will serve on the league's state executive board in 1964-65. More than 100 delegates, 94 of them from District 11 secondary schools, attended the state meeting.

The governor announced the time of the meeting Friday. He is hopeful of winning support from some Democrats to insure passage of some measure realigning the state's four congressional districts so they will be approximately equal in population.

Members of the Republican majority, who so far have failed to agree on any single plan for reshaping the districts will caucus at the capitol at 10 a.m.

The governor is expected to speak to the lawmakers about 2:30 p.m., but the talk probably will be informal.

Several proposed bills will be ready for introduction shortly after the session opens.

Lawmakers began arriving in Denver Friday for the special session. It will be the first extraordinary meeting of the Colorado General Assembly since June 1961.

TV Set Stolen In One of Four Local Thefts

A television set was stolen from a man's home in one of four thefts reported by police this morning.

Thieves broke into the home of Herman Butler, 119 S. El Paso St., Thursday night and rifled a filing cabinet and a dresser drawer before getting away with the TV set. Police said entry was made through the rear door.

Eriel's Dale Street Pharmacy, 802 N. Weber St., was burglarized and 15 quarts of liquor stolen early this morning. Thieves took the liquor from a display counter after breaking a plate glass door with a brick. The loss was $88. Police on routine patrol discovered the burglary.

A camera worth $18 was stolen from the car of Dorothy Helen Kelly of Security Thursday morning. A youth about 18 years old was seen running away from the car which was parked at the rear of 110 E. Castilla St. at the time of the theft. The thief broke a vent window and took the camera from the front seat of the car.

John David Fields, 1012 N. Wamsatch Ave., reported to police that an electric drill and other tools were stolen from the porch of his house Wednesday night. Fields discovered the theft Thursday morning. The loss was estimated at $78.

Extension Center Gets Boost in New CU Budget

students at Boulder will drop $1—from $1.167 this year to $1.166 next year.

The Denver and Colorado Springs centers will receive total increase of $243,000, most of it earmarked for more full-time faculty members and for increasing the honorarium paid to part-time teachers.

The largest increase for any CU unit will be a $1.5 million jump in the Colorado General Hospital budget to $7 million.

This increase, plus provisions for 10 new faculty positions and nine new non-academic positions at the School of Medicine, are related to increased patient care which will be necessary when the new hospital building is opened next fall.

Budgets for the various new medical center units are: School of Medicine, $2.8 million; School of Nursing, $656,000; Dentistry Scholarship Program, $100,000; Colorado General Hospital, $7 million; Colorado Psychopathic Hospital, $2 million; Children's Diagnostic Center, $76,000; and Central Services, $2.4 million.

The regents also adopted separate budgets totaling $2 million for various auxiliary enterprises and self-supporting activities at the Medical Center.

An auxiliary and self-supporting enterprise budget for the Boulder campus will be presented at the May meeting.

New Apartment Project Okayed

BOULDER (AP)—University of Colorado regents approved unanimously Friday plans for a 130-unit apartment project for married students on the Boulder campus.

Action on the start of the project had been delayed temporarily while regents studied a proposal by a new organization, Campus Facilities Development Corp. It claimed it could build apartments for $6,000 to $7,000 per unit instead of the $13,000 which the proposed project will cost.

Regent Dale Atkins of Denver said the CFDC proposal may represent a new idea in student housing but since it has not built any projects Atkins added, "It is not in our interest to serve as a guinea pig in this project."

The Nation's Weather

(Report furnished by U.S. Weather Bureau Station at Peterson Field)

Tornadoes were forecast until the early evening hours Friday for portions of north central Texas.

One tornado was sighted from 15 to 30 miles west—southwest of Wichita Falls, Tex., and another about 75 miles south-time teachers.

Baseball size hail fell 50 miles south-southeast of Abilene while golf ball size hit downtown Wichita Falls. A tornado was sighted by an aircraft about 12 miles east of Tallahassee, Fla.

Scattered showers and thundershowers also occurred in the lower Ohio Valley and in the southeast. Rainfall amounts of more than an inch were reported at Greer in northwest South Carolina. McComb, Miss., reported 1.50 inches. Wichita Falls, 1.34, and Shreveport, La., 1.32 in the past six hours ending at 5 p.m. Friday.

Rain, snow, cold and windy conditions still prevailed Friday evening in the Great Basin and the central and northern Rockies. Southwesterly winds blowing from Mexico brought unusually dry air over most of New Mexico, Colorado, western Texas, and extreme western Kansas. Humidity readings Friday afternoon over this area were less than five per cent with Amarillo, Tex., showing less than two per cent.

With south to southeast winds from the Gulf, humidities were around 60 per cent over central sections of Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas.

Maximum temperatures Friday afternoon ranged from the low and mid-30s in northeast Nevada, southeast Idaho, and southwest Montana, to the mid-90s in the lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas.

Newspaper Ad Business Going Up This Year the bureau," he said, adding that "the bureau's newspapers at present represent 79 per cent of U.S. daily newspaper circulation."

Lipscomb described the new bureau programs for 1964. Major among them, he said, are new advertising clinics for retailers giving instruction on the most effective methods of using newspapers for advertising.

The bureau's workshops to train newspaper advertising staffs, he noted, are now run at the member newspaper and last year trained 1,200 salesmen. This was 1,000 per cent more than the annual average of the regional type of workshops run over the previous nine years.

In addition, the bureau is conducting new programs with retail associations and holding promotional conferences with shopping center groups around the country.

Jack Kaufman, executive vice president, told the audience that the bureau national sales program has more than doubled the rate of sales presentations to national advertisers and agencies so far this year.

He reported intensive activity is going forward along the same lines to present facts selling newspaper advertising to chain store managements.

A new milestone in advertising research will be established in 1964, he told the audience, with the completion in coming months of one of the biggest research projects in newspaper history. "This will provide a new concept for measurement of the opportunity for newspaper advertisements to be read."

Another major new bureau program in 1964 is developing new creative techniques to get maximum impact for newspaper advertising.

Bureau prototype ads, using ingenious effects of color and "motion" and translating TV "demonstration" into print, are being presented widely to advertising agencies, he said, to stimulate new thinking on the creative level.

Make Your Place in The Sun More Comfortable

By BILL MEYERIECKS

Comfort, sturdiness and eye appeal are what is needed in outdoor furniture.

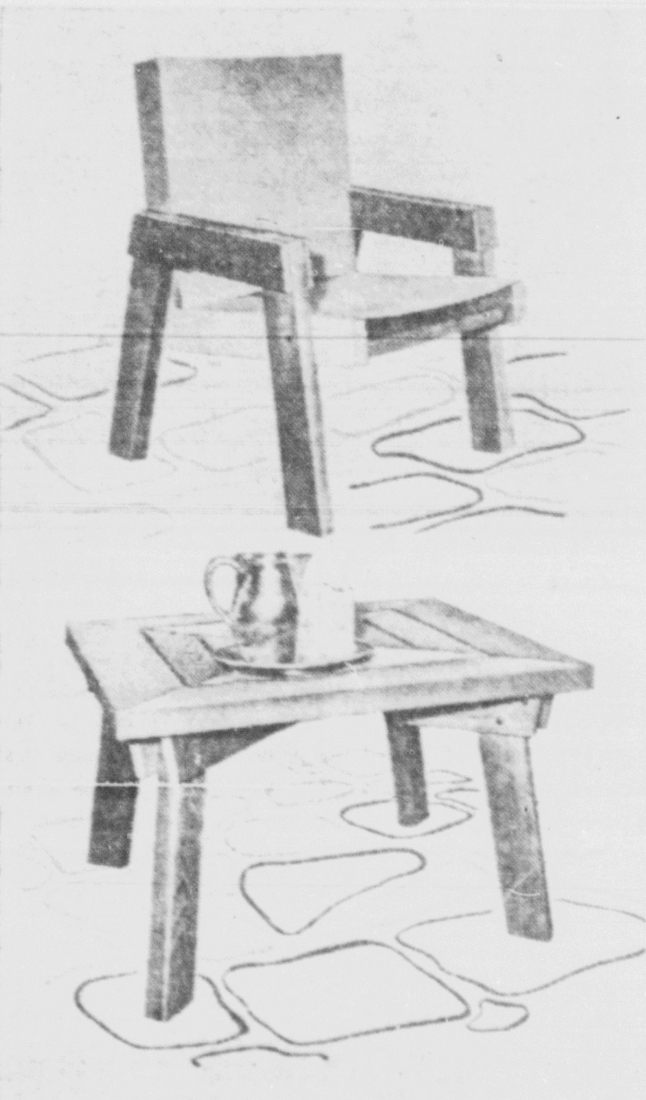

These main points are the attraction to Sketchbook's do-it-yourself project this week. It is the single purpose outdoor furniture, consisting of a chair and table. Equally inviting about this plan S-160 is that both projects are relatively easy construction. Any average handy fellow should be able to whip them together in a weekend's leisure time.

First, the patio chair: it is made from standard lumber sizes, 1 x 4 and 2 x 4 mainly, and covered with canvas on seat and back. It's plenty sturdy and comfortable. The Sketchbook plan shows in full size patterns and step-by-step assembly procedure how you go about completing it. You could make more than one which is just a case of having enough wood on hand. Our model of the chair and table shown in the photograph was made in redwood, which is preferred wood, but you can decide for yourself about that. The chair seat and back is sized also to accommodate standard size cushions usually sold in most department stores as replacements for outdoor furniture units. But you can use the canvas seat and back as shown in the plan.

Building patterns and steps to assemble are also detailed in the S-160 to make the handsome table. The highlight of this unit is its mitered top design which gives you a very unusual effect. One you'll find very pleasing.

For both units, we suggest a special type of fastener in our materials list that makes assembly and dismantling for off-season storage a cinch. This is a design extra you'll find helpful.

Sketchbook plans are available for 50 cents each through this newspaper. Send for S-160 and begin to build up some attractive and comfortable furniture to add to your backyard fun this summer.

THESE SINGLE PURPOSE outdoor units of chair and table have the advantage of being flexible as well as sturdy, comfortable and attractive. You can shift the seat with the sun, set your table in the shade. They are coordinated, too, in design with other Sketchbook outdoor projects, such as S-112, the table-bench for four. To order S-160, the chair and table set, fill out the coupon and mail it with 50 cents to SKETCHBOOK, in care of this newspaper.

Now Is Time In Any Climate, To Check Home

An annual "how's the house?" checkup is important in any climate—and especially important where winter gets in its chilling clutches. In any case, wherever you live, many of the suggestions below can apply to your diggings.

First step: make yourself a check list.

Turn off the water supply to outside faucets. Drain them completely. Wait until a freeze can be a costly delay.

You may have put gutters and downspouts in perfect condition, but don't forget to clean them once more after the last leaves have fallen. It's a small job, but it will prevent water from backing up, freezing under the roof and eventually leaking through.

If you've had trouble with ice-filled gutters, consider the use of special heating cables made to prevent this condition. But install them right away.

Your house won't be weather-proof unless it's tightly caulked. Check for cracks, open joints, space around window and door frames.

Use plenty of caulking in those big openings. If it dries out or shrinks this winter, there'll still be enough to keep out air and moisture.

If the crack is too small to caulk, don't just coat the surface with caulk compound. This won't do any good. May even form a base on which moisture will accumulate. Widen the crack, then fill.

Very deep cracks should be filled with oakum first, then with caulk on top of that.

A caulk job is only as good as the surface to which it is applied. It should be clean, and should NOT be wet, greasy or dusty.

Don't caulk over raw wood. It will soak up the oils in the caulk.

Prime the surface before caulking.

Caiking is available in stiff grades to be applied with a putty knife or in a special "gun grade" to be applied with a caulking gun. There also are throw-away cartridges for guns or tubes that can be squeezed like toothpaste tubes.

Do your caiking when it's above 40 degrees, or warm the caulk if it's too cold out.

Away from the house, make certain that trees that don't look too strong are braided with guy wires, and that sagging fences are straightened and braced.

Put markers along your driveway—the type with reflectors that will show above deep snow.

Salt and sand for icy walks should be stored now.

Indoors, make certain the furnace is in working order. If you haven't had it done yet, get a service man to check it over.

If you have a furnace filter, make sure you start out with a clean one, and have a spare on hand. Clean warm air registers—dirt cuts down on heating efficiency.

In looking at prospective homes, remember that you'll be able to provide extra living space when the need arises if the house has an attic.

Plywood Useful Where Large Surfaces Needed

The physical structure of plywood makes it an especially desirable material for projects which require large, unbroken surfaces. Plywood sheets measuring 4 feet by 8 feet are standard in all lumber yards. Many dealers carry panels in smaller sizes and some will make cuts to exact specifications.

When you are purchasing a 4 by 8 sheet and doing your own cutting—which is the most economical method—spend a little extra time in laying out the work. You will discover very often that all the pieces for your project can be cut out of a single panel provided you plan the cuts properly. In all woodworking, there is a certain amount of waste. But this waste can be kept to a minimum if you do not make the cuts in a catch-as-catch-can fashion. As any experienced carpenter will tell you, "measure twice and cut once." And don't forget to allow space for saw kerfs between adjacent pieces.

In doing the cutting, keep the good side of the plywood facing up if you are using a hand saw, a table saw or a radial saw. If you are using a portable power saw, the cutting is done with the good side face down. This advice is designed to prevent the best side of the plywood from splintering as the saw goes through it. But a little splintering may occur with a hand saw until you get the knack of working with plywood. Until that time, the splintering can be reduced by placing a piece of scrap lumber under the scored line and sawing both together.

Remember that plywood which will be used outdoors should be the exterior type. It is made with a special adhesive that holds the plies together in all kinds of weather. Plywood can be purchased either in softwoods or hardwoods. The softwoods include fir, pine, redwood and cedar. The hardwoods include birch, maple, oak, cherry, walnut, mahogany and beech. You will find that not all dealers carry all kinds, but if you want a special wood which your dealer does not have in stock, he should be able to get it for you fairly quickly.

The big seller is fir plywood because it is the most plentiful and the cheapest. It has a wide strain that is a little tricky to finish, but which can be conquered by using one of the special sealers made especially for this type of wood.

Here Are Tips on Ways To Clear Clogged Drain

Clearing the sink drain may be accomplished in one of several ways, says the Plumbing Heating/Cooling Information Bureau.

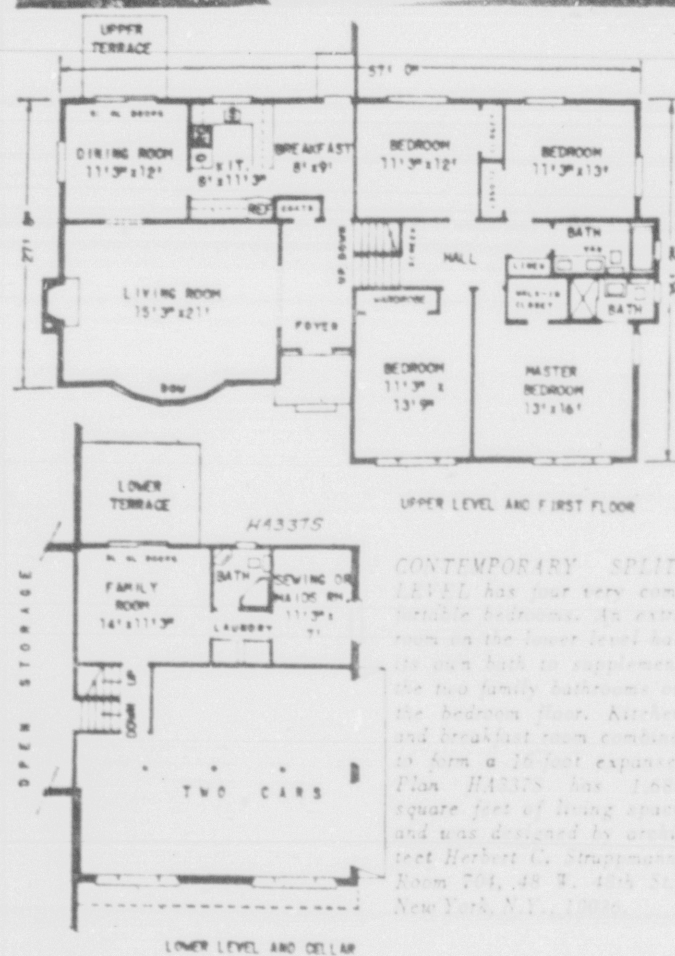

Often the trouble lies just below the sink strainer and can be loosened with a long screw driver or piece of wire.

Using the familiar plumber's friend is another effective method. For best results, pour boiling water with a little ammonia down the drain before using this implement.

There are many powerful draw light pencil lines where drains clogging compounds available. The cutting is to be done. Some are through plumbing contractors. The lines with a sharp knife, used in handling these compounds as their ingredients can burn the skin.

An estimated four to five million persons in the U.S. wear contact lenses all or part of the time.

Gypsum Wallboard Both Economical, Fireproof

Gypsum wallboard gets high ranking among the most popular dry wall materials because it is both economical and fireproof. It is made of gypsum plaster encased in a strong, fibrous paper. It is sometimes referred to as plasterboard, but the latter actually is a term used by professionals for the gypsum lath which serves as a base for wet plaster.

Gypsum wallboard may be obtained in sizes ranging from four feet in width to lengths from four feet to 12 feet. It comes in various thicknesses, the most popular being one-quarter, three-eighths and one-half inches. Another type of gypsum wallboard is available in sizes similar to wood paneling, with pre-decorated surfaces. And there are various other varieties of this material on the market. Our concern right now is with the inexpensive type, usually purchased by the home owner in four by eight sheets.

In finishing a basement attic or extra room with gypsum wallboard it is likely that you will not be able to avoid cutting in certain places, especially above and below windows and around doors. The cutting does not present a problem. Although a hand saw may be used, a better method is to make the cut with a utility knife.

Place the board on a table or a couple of sawhorses, with the top surface up. Measure and mark the board on the top surface. Turn the board around so that the line of the cut hangs a little over the edge of the table or sawhorse and snap downward. The panel will break along the scored line.

The final operation is to cut the paper on the back of the board. Gypsum wallboard may be applied over any kind of surface or framework, although furring strips are preferable to obtain a good nailing base. Start nailing at the center of each sheet and work outward, using cement-coated flathead nails and spacing them from six to eight inches apart. Each nail should be driven so that the hammer head leaves a slight depression or "dimple" in the paper. This depression affords a holding surface for the cement which later is used to cover the nailhead.

If you have purchased gypsum wallboard with edges that require concealment of the joints, your dealer will sell you a special cement for this purpose. The cement is spread over the joint so that it is forced into the tiny opening. Putty-knife tips are then placed over the wet cement, another coat of which is applied over the tape. Two more coats put on after the previous coats have dried, complete the job.

Gypsum wallboard may be covered with any kind of paint or wallpaper.

Addition of Bath Is Frequent Project

The addition of a bath is the most frequent project among home owners who are enlarging their houses, according to building experts at Allied Chemical's Barrett Division. Analysis showed 21 per cent of those expanding their homes were adding new bathrooms. 24 per cent were adding bedrooms and 19 per cent were installing family rooms.

Think of Resale Value When Buying, Building

When you buy or build a home, it's a good idea to keep future marketability in mind. The Plumbing Heating/Cooling Information Bureau.

The number of bathrooms, their size, the arrangement of the fixtures, and their location are all important elements in establishing the resale value of a house. Similarly, hydronic heating is universally recognized as a quality installation, and assures the house a good future market.

It pays to buy top quality fixtures and installations in the first place—you'll get better service and a better, sounder price years from now.

Two Plead Not Guilty in District Court

Two defendants pleaded innocent in District Court Friday.

The first was Ruby Nell Kearcher, 25, 14 N. 8th St., who pleaded innocent to no account check.

According to the information filed against the defendant, she issued a $5 check Feb. 26 with intent to defraud the El Paso Garage, north of Colorado Springs.

The matter was continued until July 14 for trial setting at the request of counsel William Eckhart.

Curtis Cathey Jr., pleaded innocent to assault with a deadly weapon and will be tried June 9.

Cathey, 19, Ft. Carson, is accused of stabbing Clarence Simmons, 25, 3800 N. Cascade Ave. during a brawl in the vicinity of the Milt's Bar parking lot April 16.

Judge David W. Enoch was on the bench and Dick Webster represented the district attorney's office.

Compactor Stolen From Truck Friday

A Wacker compactor, a machine used for packing dirt and soil and worth $700, was stolen from the back of a truck parked adjacent to the Bergen Hill-Conoco Service Station, 1402 Harrison Rd. the sheriff's department reported Friday.

According to Deputy Sheriff Charles Smith, the theft happened sometime late Thursday night. The compactor belonged to Reiman Wuerth of Cheyenne, Wyo.

Innocent Plea Entered in Assault Case

Enrico Antonio Chavez, 29, 231 N. Cheyenne Ave., pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity in District Court Friday to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Judge David W. Enoch ordered the defendant to undergo a psychiatric examination in the state hospital, Pueblo, and appointed Dr. Richard Draper as the psychiatrist. The matter was then continued to May 29.

Chavez is alleged to have attacked his wife, Martha, 29, 317 E. Vermijo St., with a butcher's knife and paring knife April 15.

The accused man is said to be an escapee from the Veterans Hospital at Ft. Lyon.

Ft. Carson Group Performs Sunday

A newly formed theatrical group at Ft. Carson will make its debut Sunday at the Cheyenne Shadows Service Club, doing a take off on the American Revolution entitled "The British Are Coming."

Having written and staged the musical comedy themselves the military and civilian members of the group depict some of the country's greatest heroes as being human, humorously pointing up their frailties, and satirically portraying their actions.

The 8 p.m. performance, an adaptation of Stan Freberg's best-selling album, "The United States of America," shows what "really" happened at such historical events as the Boston Tea Party, the crossing of the Delaware, and the making of the flag.

Man Pleads Guilty to Petty Larceny

Gerald August Grubb, 24, Ft. Carson pleaded guilty in District Court Friday to petty larceny and Judge David W. Enoch set May 22 for pre-sentence investigation.

Grubb was first charged with larceny from the person and alleged to have stolen an unspecified amount of cash from Ray Hembree, March 4, but the charge was reduced to the lesser offense by the district attorney's office represented by Dick Webster.

Gary Lee Parmenter, who pleaded innocent March 27 to entering a motor vehicle with intent to commit larceny and then changed his plea to guilty April 10 when the charge was reduced to malicious mischief by the district attorney's office, had his case continued to May 1.

Probation Officer Jack Livingston told the court that pre-sentence investigation had not been completed. Testimony was given by Police Officer Dewey Gieck.

Parmenter, 20, 2105 N. Weber St., was alleged to have entered a motor vehicle belonging to the military police March 2 and taken a microphone worth $30.

Construction Is Started On Mesa Villa Apartments

Construction was begun Friday on Mesa Villa Personalized Apartment Homes on Kissing Camels Drive, in the northwest section of Colorado Springs, following ground-breaking ceremonies.

General contractor on the project is Raymond C. Whitlock.

The first half of the project will consist of 21 living units, 14 garages and 34 carport spaces. It will be completed Sept. 1. The next 21 units will be available by Nov. 15.

The building investment alone for the 42 living units will be more than $1 million.

Mesa Villa Apartments have been designed by Walter A. Miller, architect, in a campus type layout of six buildings on a parcel of land adjacent to the Kissing Camels Golf Club building. It is the only apartment-residence complex located with a luxury home area in the Pikes Peak Region.

The buildings combine straight clean lines of contemporary architecture with the warmth of rough-sawn cedar walls, heavy hand-split cedar shake roof shingles, carved-type entry doors and extensive roof overhangs which project as far as 12 feet from the building, protecting entrances as well as large balcony and terrace areas.

All units will be air conditioned and each will have four to six rooms, two or three baths, a fully-equipped kitchen and a fireplace. Interior walls will be finished with walnut panelling, plaster and ceramic tile. Several of the units will have double garages accessible from within the unit, and others will have sunken living rooms.

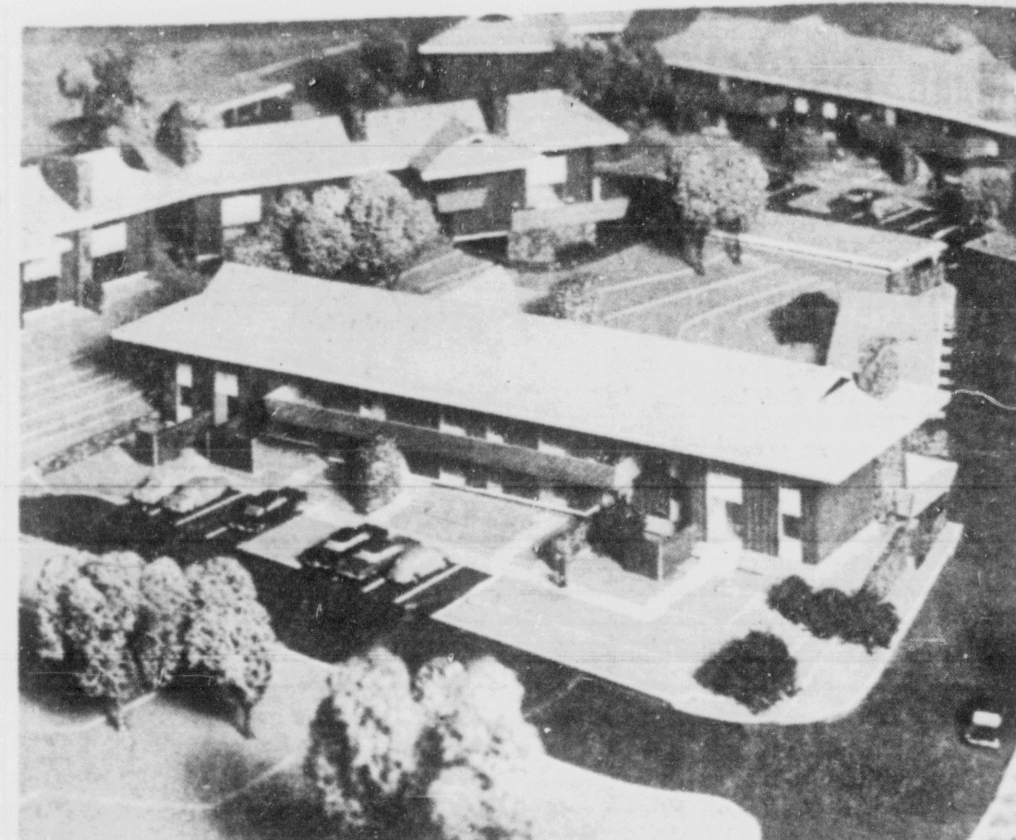

The general contracts provide landscaping of the grounds with mature trees, shrubs and sod. Exterior gas lighting is provided to illuminate driveways and to highlight the landscaping where desirable. There will be an automatic underground sprinkler system.

Miller said the view of Pikes Peak should never be obstructed since the Mesa Villa site is partly surrounded by the landscaped Kissing Camels Golf course. The sloping terrain permits each building to be at a different level and individual in character. Each unit has been designed to provide a maximum scenic view and at the same time have privacy from all other units. Privacy will be achieved by landscaping, offsets in building and masonry garden walls.

Resident managers of Mesa Villa will be Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baird. Baird currently has a model of the project on display at the Kissing Camels Golf Club and is arranging leases for residents. He expects to complete current leaseings of apartments by June 1.

Mesa Villa is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Byron Church, who will occupy one of the residences. They have been residents of the neighborhood for five years, residing at 37 Friendship Lane. Church is a real estate appraiser.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates that if every person in the country used one extra tablespoon of milk daily, the surplus of milk and milk products would be eliminated.

John P. McMahon Died Here Thursday

John P. McMahon, 61, of 411 Dahlia St., died Thursday at a local hospital following an extended illness.

Mr. McMahon was born Aug. 8, 1902, at Stevenson, Scotland, and came to the United States at the age of 1 year. His parents settled in Pennsylvania and later moved to Illinois. He moved to Colorado Springs in 1946.

He was employed by the gas division of the City of Colorado Springs Public Utilities Department.

He was married Aug. 29, 1942 at Chicago, Ill. He was a member of the Sacred Heart Church.

Mr. McMahon served in the U.S. Navy from 1919 to 1922.

Survivors include his wife, Lauretta B. McMahon of Colorado Springs, one brother, William McMahon of Chicago, Ill.; two sisters, Mrs. Katie Campbell of Gillespie, Ill., and Mrs. Agnes Basso of Forrest Park, Ill.; a cousin, Peter McCann of Colorado Springs, and several nieces and nephews.

Rosary services will be held at Nolan Drawing Room Sunday at 8:30 p.m., with Requiem High Mass at Sacred Heart Church Monday at 10 a.m.

Burial will be in Colorado Memorial Gardens.

Dr. Sturges to Move To Offices Here

Dr. Hubert F. Sturges, physician, will move to new offices in the North Circle Medical Arts Center, 1819 N. Circle Dr., Tuesday, to continue the general practice of medicine.

A former medical missionary in Africa, Dr. Sturges came to Colorado Springs from Brighton, a year ago, taking over the practice of Dr. Robert L. Quimby at 531 N. Cascade Ave. Dr. Quimby is continuing his study of medicine in Denver.

Dr. Sturges was born of missionary parents in the Belgian Congo. He was educated in the United States, graduating from the College of Medical Evangelists at Loma Linda, Calif., in 1951. He interned at Porter Hospital in Denver in 1951 and 1952.

From 1952 to 1957 he was a Seventh-day Adventist medical missionary in Ethiopia. Dr. Sturges, his wife Barbara, and three children, Lynn Del, 10, Sylvia, 9, and Paul, 5, live at 5033 Garo Circle. The two daughters were born in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

Track Advocate

There is something magnetic about this man. His enthusiasm for the sport is overwhelming and after five minutes of conversing with this advocate, you are inclined to enlist in the fight.

This man is set on establishing track and field program at his school. Nothing short of this goal will diminish his endeavors.

He could be labelled a pioneer in the track field for in some areas of Colorado, especially smaller schools, this sport receives little promotion and support. But rather we shall call this individual a coach who is bent on developing track on the same successful levels as the other major sporting events.

The man in question is John Sidney Shultz.

In his second term as head track coach at Fountain high school, Shultz has constructed a solid program at the Class AA school. One quick glance at the Trojans' record this season will support this statement.

The Fountain team was slated to host its annual Fountain Invitational Relays today and regardless of the outcome, the Trojans have proven themselves in past meets. Included in their past winning performances was the recent Centennial Relays in Pueblo last weekend.

And the Fountain thrived edged arch-rival Cheyenne Mountain in a triangular meet. The defending PPL District Meet champion, Cheyenne, scored two victories over the Trojans in previous meets but only by slight margins.

Last year the Fountain tracksters finished in the runner-up slot in the PPL District outing. That was Schultz' first term as head track boss at the Fountain school.

This season the Trojans rate as one of the top five teams in the state Class-AA division. And today's outing against the defending state titlist Alamosa and top challenger Durango will give an indication of things to come in this year's state meet on May 16.

In reviewing the success enjoyed by the Fountain team, we find it didn't happen by chance. It required hard work and long range planning.

On many occasions this scribe found Shultz working on the Fountain oval months before the track season's first meet. He is a stickler for details and took it upon himself to recondition the Fountain track.

He then started building athletes. And the result is a well rounded track and field squad revolving around the school's all-around athlete, Bob Carter, who has been unchallenged in the sprints so far this season.

A native of Johnstown, Colo., Shultz began his coaching career on the Western Slope serving two years as head track coach and assistant football and basketball coach at Durango. He is a graduate of Colorado University and during his four years at the Boulder school Shultz was a standout on the varsity track squad as a quarter-mile. Shultz will complete his studies for a masters degree this summer in Guidance and Counseling. He also serves as Fountain's varsity wrestling coach.

Shultz and his wife, Carolyn, are both involved in athletics. Carolyn is a girls physical education teacher at Cheyenne Mountain.

Widefield Halts Manitou For First PPL Victory

It took Widefield's ace hurler, Don Tomsha, to retire the side in the seventh inning as the big right hander saved the Gladiators single run lead and avoided the Pikes Peak League cellar.

The result was Widefield's first victory in PPL play this season as the Gladiators slipped past visiting Manitou Springs, 10-9, on their home diamond Friday.

Despite 14 scattered hits, the Mustangs couldn't tally the additional run in the final frame. This was Manitou's third straight loss whereas the Widefield aggregation recorded its first victory for a 2-1 won-loss record.

In today's single PPL encounter, the Florence squad will put its titles hopes on the line when the Huskies tangle with Air Academy High. Both teams are undefeated and the Huskies were leading the Class-AA loop with a 3-0 mark. The Kadets are 2-0 in league play.

The Academy High-Florence game is slated today for 10 a.m. at the Kadet diamond.

Tom Petersen's Gladiators only required eight hits to put the game on ice. In addition to saving the game for the Wide-

Falcons Winning Skein Ends As Brigham Young Wins, 12-7

By LOY HOLMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Editor

The guests may have arrived late at the Air Force Academy, but it didn't seem to effect their appetite as they gobbled up just about all the goodies in an abbreviated game Friday afternoon.

After starting some 45 minutes beyond the scheduled time because Brigham Young University was tardy in getting over the Continental Divide from Grand Junction where they played on Thursday, the contest was called after eight innings with the visiting Cougars out in front, 12-7.

The teams had agreed before the game that to new inning would begin after 6 p.m. because of darkness and it left the Air Force holding the bag just when the usually hard-hitting Falcons were starting to find the range against BYU's excellent hurler, Joe Becroft.

It's doubtful that another inning would have made that much difference, however, as the Cougars had already pounded Cadet starter Al McClure for a baker's dozen hits and 12 runs. Had the Academy not been plagued with an acute shortage of pitchers this season, it's doubtful McClure would have lasted through the fifth.

But Coach Connie Sparks had little choice with only three starters on his roster and two more games coming up this weekend.

The defeat ended a 10-game winning streak for the Falcons, who hadn't lost since the opener at New Mexico several weeks ago. And although pounded hard from the middle innings on, McClure was the 11th time in 12 games an AFA pitcher had gone the route.

This afternoon the same teams will go at it again with lefty Fred Olinsted, a veteran senior.

Expected to be at the controls for the Air Force, this game is slated for 2 p.m. on the Academy diamond and this time they should start on time. Then on Sunday, the Falcons will host Wyoming University in another game at 1 p.m. with the other starter, Pete Braccip, the only one available.

It was clearly a case of not having enough depth on the pitching staff for the Falcons as the traveling Cougars scored four times in the top of the fifth to up their lead to 6-0 and the AFA could do little about it. McClure, a 180-pound sophomore from Bangor, Maine, was making his third appearance of the season but he received little support from his teammates who committed five glaring errors behind him.

The Falcons' impressive hitting skein, which had boosted the team batting average to .357 before this game, was cut short by the overhead slants by Becroft who was coasting along with a two-hitter until the eighth.

Oddly enough, all five of the AFA's hits were for extra bases with McClure, third baseman Jim Steed and catcher Al McClure all getting home runs, and McClure and first baseman Bruce Huneke doubles.

Brigham Young also had its share of extra bases from McClure's offerings as center fielder Roger Burt powered one home, left fielder Jerry Schurr got a triple and Burt was up to hit for himself, but he erased their doubts by poking the ball over the right field barrier.

In the meantime, BYU had built up a growing lead with single runs in the second and fourth and then four more in the fifth. They batted around the double in the sixth and the big inning, getting four hits and helped out by two Air Force bobbles, and two wild pitches from the AFA hurler.

The game might have ended an inning earlier with the Cougars leading by a 9-3 count, but the Cadets went down quickly (with one intentional strikeout) to beat the time deadline.

It did little good, however, as BYU pushed across three more to increase their margin in the top of the eighth on a single, triple, double and sacrifice fly. Steed and McClure both boomed their home runs in the last-ditch effort but it was far too late.

For Brigham Young, it evened up their season's record at 11-11 and they have now won eight of their last 10 games. Two of those victories came on Thursday when they swept a double header from Mesa Junior College at Grand Junction.

With all this fence pounding it would hardly seem a pitcher's duel—but that's what it was at least for Becroft against the AFA batters. Outside of the double by McClure and a follow-up homer by McClure in the

Indians Post Shutout For Second League Win

By DICK FOSTER

Two batters in the fourth inning and then grounded out to shortstop. Mike Holland then doubled and Bill Johnson singled put the Indians ahead 2-0.

Cheyenne scored in four innings out of the six they spent at the plate. Jeff Thatcher was the first to bat and to score for Cheyenne, singling and then stealing second. On Thatcher's steal, catcher Crabtree went to third, scoring later on Gary Graham's sacrifice bunt.

Graham was definitely the stick hero Friday. In addition to his key first inning bunt, he singled and scored in the third, and homered to plate himself and Thatcher in the fifth. Also scoring in the third was Cheyenne catcher Joe Geick whose double sent Graham home. Folk then scored on Ted O'Brien's churning the baselines.

Bears Score Late to Whip CC

By TOM CUSHMAN

Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

Bob Johnson's facelift job on the Colorado College baseball program had a brief 8-2 setback Friday afternoon — but in the process the Tigers hustling new coach did manage to prove a point.

It has been Johnson's contention since taking over the post at CC that Colorado State College's Bears are mortal. The thought was somewhat revolutionary in Rocky Mountain Conference circles, especially since it came at a time when Pete Butler's bullies had just concluded a three game stretch against RMC opposition — a period during which they had tallied somewhere near 100 runs.

Johnson, who had not yet had to deal with the slick Greeley nine, viewed these proceedings with skepticism. "I don't know just how good CSC is," the Tigers coach mused, "but I'll tell you this. They aren't going to score any 30 runs a game off our pitchers."

Friday at Memorial Park, CC's Warner Reeser and Mike Irstfeld proved Johnson to be something of a prophet. In essence, Greeley's free-swinging Bears did not score a single run against Tiger pitching. In fact, the CC hurlers had a great deal more trouble with their own fielders than they did with CC batters. A tight band of defense around the pitching effort could quite conceivably have produced a shutout victory for the Bengals.

Regardless of the combination of glove and mental errors that wrecked the Tiger's chances for a startling upset, this CC team is on its way to becoming a strong representative for the school. For six innings Friday, Butler's perennial champions were in a battle such as they are unaccustomed to in the RMC. And by the late innings, their tactics in the Tigers' coach mused, "but I'll tell you this. They aren't going usual disdain for CC baseball had given way to a new respect.

Reeser actually pitched an exceptional game. He gave up seven hits before tiring and giving way to Irstfeld with two away in the eighth. But with sharp play behind him, the CC freshman might have slipped out of the jams that produced the runs.

The Bears got a slightly tainted tally in the first when Joe Bonaquista dropped a fly ball into left which is the sun field at Memorial Park, and it fell for a triple. Then with two out, Mike Keck was hit by a pitch.

When he broke for second on a steal attempt the throw had him, but he forced second-sacker Mike Mestek to chase him down and before the tag had been made, Bonaquista had crossed the plate.

CC bunched the majority of its offense in the fourth to take a brief 2-1 lead. John Simus looped a double to the opposite field to lead off and with one away, Mestek lined a clean to center. The Bears finished up with three unearned runs in the eighth on a clean single, a pop fly and two errors.

The two teams resume play this afternoon at Greeley when Bill Jarowski will try his luck against the Bears in a 2 p.m. contest.

The Bears tied it in the top of the fifth, on perhaps the cheapest run of the day. Ron Vlasin reached base when first sacker Dennis Walker dropped a throw and eventually came around when another tall fly to left fell for a triple.

CSC packed it away in the seventh, but again Reeser might have been home free. With one away he walked Vlasin, who promptly stole second. Bear pitcher, Tom O'Brien, then slapped a ball to third-base man John Simus, who hesitated just long enough to allow both runners to arrive safely.

Another pop fly hit plated one of the other two scoring position from where Joe Bonaquista drove them in with a solid blow

Terrors Resume SCL Action Today

By LOY HOLMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Editor

Backed into a point of no return in the South Central League title race, Palmer High faces a situation in which they must win all the rest of their five SCL contests this spring to stay in the running.

That's the setup this morning as the Terrors host Trinidad in the last home game of the season, trailing their intra-city rivals from Wasson by a half game. The game is set for 10 a.m. at Memorial Park, Pikes Peak at Hancock.

Following today's go against the Miners, the Terrors will play Air Academy High in a non-league affair next Wednesday, and then travel for games against Pueblo South, Wasson, Pueblo Central and Pueblo East to close out the schedule. Actually, the Wasson contest will be on the neutral Memorial Park diamond, but will be considered a "road" game.

That puts the pressure on Palmer as Coach Jerry Hughes' Tribe can't afford another loss and stay in the running. And after two shaky finishes this past week it looks like a long road ahead.

Last Tuesday the Terrors suffered through a nightmarish seventh inning in which Pueblo Centennial came from behind with five runs in the final frame to hand them their first loss of the season. The Miners had pulled out of the lead for the first time this season. Then the next day, in a non-leaguer against Cheyenne Mountain they almost saw the same thing as the Indians came on with four runs in the last inning before the Terrors pulled it out, 8-5.

Thus it's a sure bet Hughes will keep a well-poised eye on possible weakening of his pitcher in the late innings today.

Trinidad has hardly been an explosive club this year, but the Miners have been tough against everybody and nearly all their games have been close.

That was the case the first time these two tangled, with Palmer coming away from Trinidad with a narrow 3-1 decision, although the Miners had the better of it in hits by an 8-5 margin.

It's probable that the Terrors will send Tom Medlicott to the mound again against Trinidad, just as in the first game for Saturday. The go-round, in that first game, problem stems from the fact Medlicott lasted only into the second inning before being lifted.

Two days of drills due to illness for reliever Phil Johnson. But may not be available for since that time he has come duty. If not, Funk must move on strong with improvement in either shortstop Jim Smith or every game, including a one-Clay Chambers, behind, the hitter against Central in his last plate. Chambers would actually starting role.

Johnson was tagged with the assignment, but even should lose as a starter against Central, he would be moved into the catch-tenial earlier this week and ing role, the versatile Chambers, who finished up against the Bulldogs, went nearly all replacement at short.

Thus, it follows that the mound assignments will probably not be decided until just before game time. Chances are that Funk will prefer to split the duty, even if Chambers is available. Bob Kochis, who has posted the big wins for the team thus far, still needs more work to regain top form. Kochis, however, has been sidelined by an illness that sidelined him for several days. Kochis worked nearly four innings Tuesday against Pueblo East without allowing a run, but he wasn't quite as sharp as in past appearances.

Funk would obviously prefer to have his staff in top shape by next Tuesday when the Terrors have a crucial home contest against Centennial scheduled. And since there are just two days between this morning's contest and Tuesday's, it is unlikely that Kochis will work a full game today.

Wasson's top pitching duo has compiled quite a record to date. Chambers tops the state with a 6-0 record and also boasts a sparkling 1.11 earned run average. Kochis mark is even more astounding. His earned-run-average is 0.72 and he has not allowed an earned marker in his last 24 1/3 innings of work. Only two runs have been scored off him during that period. And the T-Birds' third starter, Bob Torrie, has a fine 1.88 earned-run mark.

Leaders Thin Out In Texas Tourney

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Dick Crawford, Howie Johnson and Ken Venturi. The best round of the day, and of the tourney so far, was a five-under par 65. Terry Dill and veteran Gene Littler took over with second round 67's for six-under-par 134 totals at the end of 36 holes.

Par was blistered again Friday with five players firing four under par 66's and six others carding 67's over the sun-drenched Oak Hills Country Club course.

Close behind the leaders at 135 was Dan Sikes of Ponte Vedra, Fla., who added a 66 to his opening round 69. Five others were bunched at four-under-par 136, including E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Bob Charles,

Friend Defeats New York

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Bill Virgdon's home run and three singles led the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 4-1 victory over the New York Mets Friday night.

Pirates' starter Bob Friend went the distance, gave up eight hits, struck out five and didn't walk a man as he won his 11th straight from the Mets, who have yet to beat him.

Buddy Werner Memorial To Be Run at Donner Slope

NORDEN, Calif. (AP)—Outstanding European and American skiers will compete Saturday and Sunday in the Buddy Werner Memorial and Silver Belt ski races at the Sugar Bowl near Donner Summit.

The star-studded entry list includes Olympics gold medal winner Francois Bonlieu of France in the downhill, and U.S. team members Billy Kidd and Jimmy Heuga, America's first two men to win Olympic medals in Alpine events.

Other famous skiers entered are Leo La Croix of France, a silver medal winner, Karl Schranz of Austria, Ludwig Leitner of Germany, Gerhard Nennung of Austria and Switzerland's Domenig Giovanoli and Stephan Kaelin.

On Sunday, the racing field goes after the silver belt down a 5,500-foot giant slalom having a 1,300-foot drop.

Washington Beats A's On Error

KANSAS CITY, AP—Wayne Causey's two-base throwing error opened the door for a five-run 10th inning uprising that gave Washington a 6-1 victory over Kansas City Friday night.

A's starter Orlando Pena and Claude Osteren of the Senators each had allowed only six hits as the teams went into the 10th tied 1-1.

With one out, Causey picked up Don Locke's grounder and threw the ball into the stands.

Fred Valentine then walked and Ed Brinkman followed with a single that sent Lock across with the tie-breaking run. That was all for Pena.

Osteren then singled for one run, Don Blasingame doubled for two runs and Chuck Hinton singled in another. Jim King, who made the first out of the inning, also made the final out to end the uprising.

Washington's 10th inning rally was capped by a three-run homer by Fred Valentine.

OLDEST RECORD TUMBLES — Gayle Hopkins of Arizona sails through the air at the Drake Relays Friday to tumble the oldest record on the books.

Arizona Jumper Shatters Oldest Drake Relays Mark

By JERRY LISKA. Relays opened in otherwise modest fashion Friday.

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Hopkins, a high school prodigy, soared to Davenport, Iowa, soared the meet's oldest mark — 26 feet 2 to better by one-quarter set by the great Jesse Owens 29-inch Owens' record of 26-1 1/2 years ago — as the 55th Drake set in 1933.

Hopkins, 22, set a new broad jump mark with a leap of 26-2. Jesse Owens, then of Ohio State, set the old record in 1935 with a leap of 26-1 1/2. (AP Wirephoto)

Milwaukee's Hank Fischer Adds to Dodgers' Woes

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Young risk taker, as the game started on 37 degree weather.

Hank Fischer survived a shaky start in near freezing temperatures Friday night to pitch the Milwaukee Braves to a 6-3 win over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

It was the eighth loss in 10 starts for the defending world champions, who are off to their worst start since moving to Los Angeles in 1958.

Ed Bailey's two-run homer in the fifth inning and Joe Torre's single and double made the difference.

The Dodgers jumped on Fischer for two runs in the first inning.

Records Start Tumbling In 40th Colorado Relays

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Oklahoma and Colorado dominated the College Freshman-Junior College Division competition Friday in the curtain raiser to the 40th annual Colorado Relays Saturday.

No team points were awarded in the new division but Oklahoma captured the 400-yard and mile relays while Colorado entries took six individual firsts. They were in shot put, javelin, broad jump, pole vault, triple jump and intermediate hurdles.

Marilynn Smith Breaks Three Records With 66

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Defending champion Marilynn Smith broke three records Friday while posting a magnificent 6-under-par 66 to take a four-stroke lead in the second round of the women's Titleholders championship.

Miss Smith, a 35-year-old blonde now playing out of Jamaica, broke the tournament back nine record with a 5-under 31. Her 66 was two strokes better than the previous low set by seven-time Titleholders champion Patty Berg back in 1955, and her two-day 5-under-par 139 was four strokes better than the previous halfway record set two years ago.

Miss Smith, who won last year's Titleholders with a playoff victory over reigning golf queen Mickey Wright, was four strokes off the pace going into Friday's round.

She played even par over the first seven holes and then became as hot as the 90-degree weather to birdie six of the next nine holes and blaze her way into a substantial lead.

Her nearest competitor was 25-year-old Judy Kimball of Sioux City, Iowa, who had an even-par 72 to go with Thursday's 71 and a 36-hole 143 that tied the previous record.

The 46-year-old Miss Berg, who had a 69 in Thursday's opening round for a two-stroke lead, apparently tired on the back nine Friday and finished with a four-over par 76 that gave her a 145, six strokes off Miss Smith's pace.

Edison News

By MRS. HARRY GEIST

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Geist and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Keller and Sue Jones Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Rasner and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rasner Sunday afternoon.

Jeannie Rasner was an overnight guest of Irene Keller's, and Jim stayed with Roger Tuesday.

Polly Appleman spent Saturday night with Pearl Geist and Viola.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rasner, Elgin and Bill Moreland, Abe Sharp, Herb Eichman, Harry Fred and Paul Geist were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Art.

The Edison Lucky Lassies 4-H girls met after school Monday. Barbara Geick served sandwiches and kool aid. Margaret Geick and Mary Kinkadee furnished cookies. Corrine and Joanne Kinkadee gave a health and safety talk on "Fallout Shelters." Polly Appleman gave a Molasses Bar Demonstration. Penny and Sandra Geick helped Irene Keller and Sherri Geick judge a set of cookies which Irene Keller baked. Betty Anderson, club president, conducted the business meeting. Next meeting will be an all day affair at the schoolhouse, May 26.

The box supper at Edison was well attended Friday night. The first six grades presented a hootenanny of "Sugartime."

"This Ole House," "Don't Fence Me In," "Mocking Bird Hill," "Settin' The Woods on Fire," "Springtime in The Rockies," "Doggie In The Window," and "It Is No Secret." Royce Cooper played a piano solo.

Harry Doak and Irene Keller presented a skit, "Coon Creek Courtship." Janice Kunau played "Joy Wonderful Joy" on the piano. The seventh and eighth grades presented two pantomimes, "Wild Nell," "The Pet of the Plains or Her Final Sacrifice," and "The Lamp Went Out." Larry Cooper and Dianna Kunau had a skit, "Out on the Farm." Dorothy Lindt and Anita Seeley a poem, "Death in the Storm or Whereby Is It Not." Penny Geick sang "Tonight You Belong to Me." Ray Baker and George Keller did a skit, "A Barrel of Fun." Alvin Anderson, Dave Hamilton, Donald Logan and Buster Gossett in the "Town Liar." Sandra Geick and Corrine Kinkadee in "Nothing but Chatter." The Juniors and Seniors presented the one-act play "Uninvited Ghost." The appearance of the Beatles almost broke up the show when the girls began to scream. They sang, "I Want to Hold Your Hand" and "She Loves You." Chuck Geick, Pete Lindt, Joe Sopko and Jim Paul make very good Beatles.

COAT MENDING TIPS

The edges of the pockets, cuffs and front closing of a coat often wear out while the rest of the garment is still in good condition. Try covering these areas with attractive silk braid and you'll be able to use the coat for many years more.

Convoys Move Out Today for 'Desert Strike'

Signals to move out will start convoys rolling today toward Exercise Desert Strike a maneuver deploying 100,000 soldiers and airmen across 13 million acres of California, Arizona and Nevada. Loading preparations will occupy the Red Devils of the 5th Infantry Division (Mech), Ft. Carson, next week.

The main body of the 5th Division will leave May 1 but the first of smaller units to fight leave today.

The 26th Signal Company rolls out to provide signal support for XVIII Airborne Corps, opposing III Corps to which the 5th Division is assigned for the exercise.

The 25th Signal follows Wednesday, furnishing signal support for Joint Task Force Mojave, the headquarters under which XVIII Corps will serve.

The 35th Transportation Company will leave Wednesday with the 5th Division's advance party, furnishing support for both the 1st Logistical Command and the 5th Logistical Command.

Hill Climb Entry Blanks To Be Mailed

Entry blanks for prospective participants in the Pikes Peak Hill Climb will be mailed out next week, according to Julian Rawls, president of the hill climb association.

The entry blanks will be sent to drivers holding competition licenses all over the country and to those who have requested the blanks, Rawls said.

The July 4 event will feature championship car, sports and stock car events.

Municipal Court Defendant Claims Police Follow

A defendant claimed Friday in Municipal Court that he must have a "marked car."

"I can't drive down the street without police following me," David LaVine, 21, said, adding he didn't think it was "fair."

LaVine, 2533 E. Bijou St., had been cited for reckless driving by Patrolman Leonard Husher who testified he observed the man driving down Nevada Avenue in excess of 60 miles an hour.

After LaVine was stopped, following what Husher described as a "near accident," the officer said the only statement the man gave him was "we followed him because he had a blue car."

Judge Allan Asher reduced pleaded guilty to a littering charge and was fined $10.

Melvin Acree, 34, 2524 1/2 W. Willamette St., pleaded guilty to charges of breach of peace and drunkenness lodged against him by his mother Mrs. Harry Drysdale. He was given two 10-day jail sentences which the judge said would be served concurrently.

Terry Lee Cook, 28, 1019 E. Willamette St., pleaded guilty to the eight turn violation and was fined $10. Cook was represented in court by attorney Weldon Tartar.

Thema Naugle, 25, 1207 Cumberland Rd., pleaded guilty to careless driving and was fined $15. A charge of injury to city property was dismissed.

A charge of drinking in public was dismissed against Charles Wright, 20, 332 S. Conchos St., on a motion by Deputy City Attorney Bob Isaac Wright.

All three programs have been conducted by Pastor Wallace and Dr. Hubert F. Sturges.

They plan to offer another program in September, unless there is a demand for an earlier scheduling.

The El Paso County Sheriff's posse have bought two "handi talki" units which have been given to the sheriff's office.

John Elliott, secretary of the posse, announced the Sheriff Earl L. Sullivan today.

The units will be used by the posse whenever it is called in to help the sheriff's office or any other law enforcement agency and will enable the men to keep in constant radio contact with the sheriff's office.

Stop Smoking Plan Grads to Meet Wednesday

Graduates of the Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Little Theater of the YMCA for an exchange of notes on how they are doing in giving up the habit.

The meeting is especially for the group which attended the program which ended Thursday night, but "alumni" of all three of the Colorado Springs Five-Day Plans are urged to attend, according to Dwight S. Wallace, director of the local program.

Eighteen of 28 persons who attended the first meeting of the latest smokers' clinic completed the program, Wallace, who is pastor of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, said the group was the smallest yet in Colorado Springs, but he described it as "one of the most enthusiastic."

Questionnaires turned in by members of the group showed that 16 persons believe they are succeeding in giving up smoking. Two are "in doubt," but one of those is confident that the Five-Day Plan points the way to eventual success.

In the group, consisting mostly of professional people, the smoking habit ranged from 3 to 36 years.

With the conclusion of the third plan, a total of more than 140 persons have been helped by the program in Colorado Springs since January.

Student County Government Day Set May 1

County Government Day, the ninth annual event for El Paso County students is scheduled for May 1 and will be held in the El Paso County Building and the County Court House.

As usual, the observance coincides with Law Day, the day on which the legal profession is honored throughout the entire nation.

Junior boys and girls from every school district in the county will participate on invitation and approximately 125 third-year high school students will gather to take part in the program.

Designed to acquaint students with the responsibilities and duties of county officials, it is, in El Paso County, an extension of the boys' state program which the legion conducts annually where state government is studied.

A feature of every program since its inauguration in 1956 is the moderated mock trial, the purpose of which is to acquaint students with the responsibilities of the various persons present in a court room when a trial is conducted, to teach them how civil and criminal cases get before the court, to demonstrate how a typical case might be tried with a running explanation of some of the essential elements of a trial and the selection of a jury.

The case of Snodgrass vs. Cowpuncher, which has its humorous elements nevertheless seriously provides a large medium of instruction.

Presided over annually by County Judge Charles J. Simon, the script itself was originally written by District Attorney Patrick Hinton and Robert McHugh, a member of the El Paso County Bar Association. The moderated portions of the case are handled by various members of the bar and attorneys.

John C. Young, Jr., Jack Roeser, and Judge Allen Asher have been among the most faithful in assisting this portion of the program.

Another feature during the past several years has usually been the witnessing of a naturalization ceremony which is conducted by one of the district judges.

The all-day program begins at 9 o'clock in the morning with tours of the County Office Building and the County Courthouse and introduction to the various county officials and explanations of the nature of their jobs.

County Assessor Field Phelps and County Judge Charles J. Simon have, through the nine years that the program has been run, conducted most of this activity.

This year's program is being supervised by Chairman J. A. Siegel for the Legion and will close with an address by Paul Josa on "The Tragedy of Freedom."
